| 1. MRS. Mary H——n, a tall, graceful, comely Woman, indebted for two thirds of her beauty to Waſhes and the Patch-box; ſhe mightily frequents the Raffling-ſhops, very fhy of allowing her Favours; but the preſent of Silver Furniture for her Chamber may mollifie her, which will coſt you but —— | 20 | 00 | 00 |
| 2. Mrs. Eliz. H——n, her Siſter, as well by Iniquity as by birth; the very Ape of Female Quality, both as to her Dreſs and Carriage; ſhe is very indifferent as to matter of money, but a Supper of two Guineas may tempt her to be kind. —— | 02 | 03 | 00 |
| 3. Mrs. Eliz. B——w, a very fine Woman, who has been a Dealer in Cullies ever ſince ſhe was fifteen; modeſt and pleaſant enough, till after the third bottle, but then Meſſalina her ſelf was not half ſo impudent; ſhe has ſeveral prizes for her Ware, but her uſual price is —— | 01 | 01 | 06 |
| 4. Mrs. Di—— P——r, a very fair Woman, and loves none but thoſe of her own Complexion, has a ſort of Sparks who buz about her, like Flies about a Honey-pot; whoever engages her to a Glaſs of Wine, muſt reckon himſelf fortunate if he comes off for —— | 03 | 04 | 06 |
| 5. Mrs. Dorothy R——t, a tall comely Woman, a little red-faced, by drinking too much Uſquebagh when ſhe lived near Eſſex-Street; ſhe would be thought, by her haughtineſs, to be a Woman of condition, but thoſe who know her better, are ſenſible ſhe will allow a Man her company for a bottle. | 00 | 01 | 04 |
| 6. Mrs. Sarah F——r, a great two-handed Strapper, having no Charms either in Perſon or Humour; yet will follow her old Trade, though ſhe is kickt and bumpt about almoſt every Night; if ſhe ſnaps a Cully his Pocket muſt pay —— | 00 | 05 | 00 |
| 7. Poſture Moll, a plump brown Woman, but ſo very well known, (that as Nicholas Culpepper ſays of ſome Herbs and Plants,) ſhe needs no deſcription; the uſual price of her Raree-ſhow is —— | 00 | 02 | 06 |
| 8. Mrs. Y——g, her Diſciple or Deputy, who ſtudied the Mathematicks under her, and has improved finely; her price is the ſame with her Miſtreſſes; but ſhe will pick your Pocket if ſhe can, and then it may coſt more than — | 00 | 02 | 06 |
| 9. Mrs. Mary L——d, a conſtant frequenter of the eighteen-penny Gallery in the Play-houſe; plump and jolly, if her impudence don't daſh you out of countenance; at firſt meeting her price is 5 s. but you may perſwade her to abate a ſhilling. —— | 00 | 05 | 00 |
| 10. Mrs. Martha K——g, a little fat Woman, known laſt Winter by her Velvet Gown and Petticoat, which was a Tyburn Legacy; ſhe has a very particular way of inflaming a Reckoning, ſo that you who thought to have come off for your 2 ſhillings may ſpend before you part —— | 01 | 01 | 06 |

| 11. Mrs. Abigail T——y, a tall slender Woman, a great frequenter of Covent Garden Prayers, who makes her Devotion a Bawd to her Lust, her price is | 00 | 10 | 00 |
| 12. Mrs. Susan C——n, the erranteſt she Hypocrite living; all bawdry with her is but Natural Philoſophy; at her firſt coming into Company she appears a Saint, but produce the Ready, and she tacks about; her uſual rate is | 00 | 07 | 06 |
| 13. Mrs. Bridget W——ms, a pretty little black Woman, has not been debauch'd above two years, not yet a Miſtreſs of her profeſſion; the uſual cuſtom being to give her half a Crown, and then to Bully her of the Money again | 00 | 02 | 06 |
| 14. Mrs. Dorothy E——ds, a very fair Woman, who kept a Coffee-houſe near Charing Croſs, has a particular fancy for Soldiers, from the embroidered Officer to the threadbare Red-coat Centinel; her prizes are various, and therefore 'tis left to the kind Cully's diſcretion. | 00 | 00 | 00 |
| 15. Mrs. Katharine D——r, a Woman that loves a Vizor-mask to that degree of fondneſs, that she lies in one every Night; she may paſs for a Woman of tolerable underſtanding while she is ſo obſcured; but the Diſguiſe taken off, inſtead of inviting, she frightens you from an Intreague. | 00 | 00 | 00 |
| 16. Mrs. Sarah VV—ks, a tall brown Woman, newly come out of a Flux, ſhe dreſſes as fine as Gauſe and painted Callico can make her, if you mount the Guard, the price, with Saddle and Furniture, is | 00 | 10 | 00 |
| 17. Mrs. Peggy L—ly, a ſly inſinuating Crack, who in company always talks of her Husband at Sea; her whole Cargo, with Topſails and Rigging, are hardly worth 10 ſhillings; but beware of her lower tire, for ſeveral have to their ſorrow found her a Fire-ſhip. | 00 | 00 | 00 |
| 18. Mrs. M——ws, formerly a Plyer in Salisbury-Court, known by her Teeth jutting out before; her good rigging makes her paſs for a firſt-rate Crack; her demands are commonly a Guinea, but thoſe who have dealt in the Commodity know she will take | 00 | 02 | 06 |
| 19. Mrs. Sarah H——rb, a very black Woman, who has ſeveral times attempted to turn honeſt, but her itching fleſh won't let her, and ſo is forced to continue a Crack in her own defence; her demand is | 00 | 02 | 06 |
| 20. Mrs. A——ld, her quondam Companion, with a Noſe like a Bollonia Lapdog, she has been lately in the Powdering-tub of Affliction; a good eaſie Girl, who ſcorns to ask for money, but will not take it unkindly if you preſent her with a Crown for her Company. | 00 | 05 | 00 |
| 21. Mrs. VV——by, formerly Miſs to Col. S——field in Ireland, but reduced to that neceſſity, that she who formerly refuſed five Guineas for the allowance of a private Favour, will now take up with any ordinary Fellow for | 00 | 01 | 00 |
| 22. Mrs. Eliz. (alias Betty) S——ds, formerly a Retailer of Oranges at the Playhouſe; the very Quinteſſence of Leudneſs, who brags ſhe has been tilted at by as many Lances, as there are Men in the Confederate Army: her price is 5 s. and a Clap ſhe gives into the bargain. | 00 | 05 | 00 |
